Numb. 461.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From October 6. to October 13. 1737.

LONDON, July 13.

Extracts of two Authentick Letters from General Laſci, and Count Munich, Commanders in Chief of the Ruſſian Armies.

General Laſci writes,

"THE Seaſon being favourable for putting in Execution a new Enterprize upon Crim Tartary, I ordered the regular Troops to move out of their Quarters along the Don, appointing the Banks of the little Rivet of Mious for the general Rendezvous, where our Coſſacks and Tartars joined us. I quitted the Neighbourhood of Aſoph, and about the End of May, arriv'd with the whole Army at Taganrock upon the Mious. Our Troops are in an excellent good Condition, chearful and very deſirous of Action; few are ſick, and fewer deſert. I paſs'd the Mious the beginning of June, and by the End of the Month I doubt not of entering Tartary. During the March I ſent out our Coſſacks and Tartars to reconnoitre the new Intrenchment at Perecop; they return'd with great Numbers of Cattle they had taken from the Enemy, and relate that thoſe Intrenchments are indeed much ſtronger than the former, and more regularly built, but not quite finiſhed; for theſe Reaſons I have determined to haſten the March of the Army, that I may order my Attack accordingly.

I hear the Army of the Tartars is Two Hundred Thouſand ſtrong, and that the Grand Signior has ſent the Kan ſome Officers of Experience to aſſiſt him in the Operations of the Campaign."

Extract of the Letter from Count MUNICH.

"As the greateſt Part of the Turkiſh Army is advanced towards the Nieſter, and ſome Detachments of Cavalry and Infantry have actually paſſed the River, under an Apprehenſion that our Deſign was upon Oczokow, I reſolved to quit the Banks of Boriſthenes. The Army decamped the 5th of June, and in five Days arrived at the River Bog, where we halted three Days to increaſe our Proviſions, and gain Intelligence of the Enemy. The 15th we paſs'd the Bog, and in a few Days ſhall advance into the Territory of Baſſarabia or Oczakow. Her Majeſty's Troops are in full Life and Ardour, and impatient to come to Blows with the Turks.

My Scouts bring me word, that the Turks and Tartars, who have paſs'd the Nieſter, advance in great Numbers above Oczakow, in order to encamp upon the Banks of two Lakes which cover the Town. So that probably we ſhall have hot Work."

They write from Naples, that Don Carlos had aboliſh'd the Junto degli Inconfidenti, the Neſt of State Leeches, whoſe Buſineſs is to detect Perſons ſuſpected by the Government.

The Maſter of a Ship arrived at Leghorn from Marſeilles, reports, that Baron Newhoff had been fifteen Days in that City, but was preparing to return directly to Corſica. We learn from that Iſland that the Malecontents were going to attack the Quarter of Calenzano, which had hitherto remained unalterably faithful to the Republick of Genoa.

The Venetians are fitting up their Magazines, buying up vaſt Quantities of Arms and Ammunition, and making all manner of Preparations as for War, and yet it is impoſſible to penetrate into the real Intentions of the Politick Republick, whether they will declare War againſt the Turks or no. In the mean time Prince Pio, the Imperial Ambaſſador, redoubles his Sollicitations to the Senate to engage them to enter heartily into the War. It is ſaid the Elector of Bavaria in his Journey agreed with the State to furniſh them with a large Body of Troops, in caſe of a Rupture.

July 14. On the 4th Inſtant, about Noon, her moſt Chriſtian Majeſty was ſafely deliver'd of a Princeſs, and is herſelf in a fair way of Recovery. This is the ſixth Princeſs the Queen has brought into the World, but the Duke of Anjou has put off his Journey to the Court of France till the next Year.

July 26. The Greek Merchants, ſettled at Vienna, have received Letters from their Correſpondents in the Turkiſh Provinces, in which they write, that the Turks never brought a more formidable Army into the Field than the preſent one, which conſiſts of near 260,000 Men, of whom half are Janiſaries.

It is confirmed from Florence, that the Great Duke died there the 9th Inſtant at 11 in the Morning, to the great Grief of all his Subjects. He was 66 Years, one Month and 28 Days old, being born the 11th of May 1671, his Name was John Gaſton de Medicis; his Royal Highneſs married the Princeſs Maria Frances of Saxe Lewenbourg, but left no Iſſue. The Succeſſion to this Prince is ſo well ſecured by the late Treaties, that his Death will make no Alteration in the Situation of the Affairs of Europe.

We learn from Madrid, that the Queen of Spain is ſo ill, that the Troops which were marching to form a Camp near St. Ildefonſo, are ordered to return back again into their Quarters; the Phyſicians being of Opinion her Majeſty has more need of ſome good Baths for the Recovery of her Health, than the Diverſion of Military Exerciſes. The King and the Prince of Aſturias are every Day at the Council Table, where the favourite Schemes now on foot are to re-eſtabliſh the Finances of the Kingdom. Don Philip diſcovers a great deal of Taſte for the Sciences, and applies himſelf with uncommon Diligence to the Study of Marine Affairs.

The laſt Letters from Belgrade adviſe, that the Duke of Lorrain and Count Seckendorff were advanced to that Fortreſs with fourteen Regiments of Imperial Foot, and ſeven Regiments of Horſe, and propoſed to open the Campaign with the Siege of Widen.

We hear that the late Lord Viſcount Bolingbrooke is here incognito.

Mr. Charles Melvill, late Tutor to the Lord Oſſulſton, is to go over to New-York with the Lord Delawar, as his Private Secretary.

By the Death of the Great Duke of Tuſcany, the Family of the Medicis, which has govern'd that Dutchy above two Hundred Years, becomes extinct. That Prince made made no Will, but contented himſelf with confirming that of Duke Coſmus III. his Father, to which he has only added ſome Legacies to his Officers and Servants. The Day after his Deceaſe the Abbot Tornaquincy, the Secretary of State, received five Judiciary Acts concerning the Succeſſion to the Great Duke; one from the Electreſs Dowager Palatine, the ſecond from General Wachtendonck in the Name of the Emperor, the third from the King of Spain's Agent, the fourth from the Miniſter of the Sicilian King, and the fifth from Prince Craon in the Name of the Duke of Lorain.

Letters from Holland ſay, they have received Advice, that their Greenland Fleet, conſiſting of 60 Sail, have taken 131 Whales, which is reckon'd very extraordinary, one Whale for each Ship being eſteem'd a good Voyage. It is remarkable, two of the ſaid Veſſels caught 14 Whales.

July 30. They write from Florence, that the Envoy of the Sicilian King having proteſted in the Name of his Maſter, againſt whatſoever ſhould be tranſacted relating to the allodial Eſtates of the Dukedom of Tuſcany, immediately retired from Court, and ſet out the next Day for Naples. Father Aſcanio, the Spaniſh Miniſter, proteſted in like manner in favour of the Queen of Spain's Claim to the Eſtates of the Houſe of Medicis.

On the other Hand, General Wachtendonck, inſtead of ineffectual Proteſts, order'd his Troops to advance from Piſa, and took poſſeſſion of the Citadel of Florence, in the Name of his Imperial Majeſty, and at the ſame time poſted his Cavalry upon the Borders of Sienna, in order to watch the Motions of the Sicilian Troops, which are quarter'd upon the Frontiers of Tuſcany.

By the laſt Letters from Corſica, the Malecontents were buſy in gathering in their Harveſt, in the utmoſt Security and Peace, having poſted their Troops in ſuch a manner, thta the Genoeſe durſt not moleſt them. The Report ſtill continues, that France will interpoſe her good Offices to reſtore the Tranquility of that Iſland.

Colonel Armſtrong ſets out next Week to viſit the Fortifications of Portſmouth, Plymouth, Dartmouth, &c

They write from Florence, that immediately after the Death of the Great Duke, the Senate and Council of two Hundred aſſembled, and took an Oath of Allegiance to the Duke of Lorrain, according to the Treaty of Peace between the Courts of Vienna and France. After which Ceremony the Prince of Craon, the Duke's Miniſter, threw a great Quantity of Silver among the People. The next Day, upon opening the late Duke's Body, they found ſeven Stones in his Bladder, two Polypuſſes about his Heart, and a general Relaxation of the Bowels. The Body being dreſs'd in the Habit of Great Maſter of the Order of St. Stephen, was afterwards laid upon a Bed of State in the great Hall of Bon, from whence it was carried the 13th into St. Lawrence's Chappel, and depoſited in the Tomb of his Anceſtor. Since the Duke's Death every thing continues perfectly quiet, only the neceſſary Precautions are taken not to be ſurprized.

July 30. They write from Vienna, that the Imperial Army was arriv'd at Barraguin, upon the Frontiers of the Ottoman Empire; that on the Day of its Arrival, War was publickly declar'd againſt the Turks; and that the Day following, the Imperial Troops enter'd upon the Territories of the Enemy: but that Count Seckendorff had not reſolv'd whether he ſhould take the Siege of Niſſa, or that of Widdin, in which he was to be determin'd by the Motions of the Turkiſh Troops, who are poſted between thoſe Places. Publick Prayers are offer'd up with great Fervour for the Succeſs of the Imperial Arms againſt the Turks. The Cardinal de Collonitz, Archbiſhop of this City, has given Orders to ring a certain Bell at ſeven o'Clock in the Morning, and that every Body who ſhall hear it ſhall fall on their Knees, in what Place ſoever they ſhall be, and pray for a Bleſſing on the Arms of his Imperial Majeſty. The ſame Orders have been given throughout all the Emperor's hereditary Dominions. Two Galliots have run aſhore near Petersbourgh; and three Veſſels, laden with Artillery and Ammunition for Belgrade, have been loſt.

Hampton Court, Aug. 1. Yeſterday being Sunday, their Majeſties, their Royal Highneſſes the Prince and Princeſs of Wales, and their Royal Highneſſes the Princeſſes Amelia and Caroline, went to Chapel, and heard a Sermon preach'd by the Rev. Dr. Blomer, one of his Majeſty's Chaplains in Ordinary. Their Majeſties and the reſt of the Royal Family, above-mention'd, dined afterwards in Publick, as uſual, before a great Number of Spectators: About 5 o'Clock the ſame Afternoon, her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs of Wales began to find herſelf in ſome Pain, and the ſame continuing by Intervals, about 7 Coaches were ordered to be got ready, and ſoon after his Royal Highneſs the Prince, and her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs of Wales, attended by ſeveral Ladies, ſet out from hence for St. James's, where they arrived about 9 at Night, and her Royal Highneſs's Pains encreaſing, ſhe was, a little after 11 o'Clock, ſafely and happily delivered of a Princeſs. About half an Hour after 10 o'Clock, his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales diſpatched one of his Pages to Hampton Court, to acquaint their Majeſties with the News of her Royal Highneſs's being in Labour, and the Queen immediately thereupon ſet out for St. James's, accompanied by his Grace the Duke of Grafton, Lord Chamberlain of his Majeſty's Houſhold, the Right Hon. the Lord Harvey, his Majeſty's Vice Chamberlain, and the ſeveral Ladies of her Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting, and arrived there about 4 o'Clock, her Majeſty, after a Stay of about 2 Hours return'd again to Hampton Court. Her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs of Wales, and the young Princeſs continue in as good Health as can be expected. This Day about 11 in the Morning, the Guns in the Park and at the Tower were fired, and at Night there were Bonefires, Illuminations, and other Demonſtrations of Joy throughout the Cities of London and Weſtminſter.

BOSTON, September 26.

Laſt Week one Capt. Harris, in a Ship bound from Cales to this Town, unfortunately ran aſhore upon the Back of Cape Cod, all the Men were ſaved: The Cargo which was Salt, will be intirely loſt. We hear ſhe belong'd to Capt. Cheevers, who we hear is gone down with ſeveral Hands to ſave what they can.
